

Notification of Increase in National Health Insurance (NHI) Contribution from 2023

The National Health Insurance Service (NHIS) informs you of an increase in NHI contributions due to rising healthcare costs associated with aging population, benefit expansion, etc. This increase applies from January 2023. Please refer to the following for details:

▶ NHI contribution rate increased by 1.49%

○ NHI contribution rate for the employee insured: 6.99% (2022) ⇒ 7.09% (2023)

- Monthly contribution is based on monthly salary

$$= \text{Average monthly salary} \times \text{contribution rate (7.09\%)}$$

※ Contribution is paid by the employee insured (50%) and his/her employer (50%).

	Total	Employee Insured	Employer	Government
Employee	7.09 (100%)	3.545 (50%)	3.545 (50%)	-
Public Officer	7.09 (100%)	3.545 (50%)	-	3.545 (50%)
Private School Staff & Teachers	7.09 (100%)	3.545 (50%)	2.127 (30%)	1.418 (20%)

- Additional monthly contribution

$$= \text{Additional monthly income} \times \text{contribution rate (7.09\%)}$$

※ Additional monthly income = {(Yearly income excluding salary - 20 million KRW)/12} × income evaluation rate

○ Value per score used to calculate the contribution of the self-employed insured:

205.3 KRW (2022) ⇒ 208.4 KRW (2023)

- Monthly contribution = contribution scores × value per score

▶ Long-term care insurance (LTCI) contribution rate increased by 0.9082% (0.0505%p)

○ “New” LTCI contribution rate*: 0.8577% (2022) ⇒ 0.9082% (2023)

The method to calculate monthly LTCI contribution will be revised from January 2023

(Before) NHI contribution × LTCI contribution rate(12.81%)

$$\text{(After) NHI Contribution} \times \frac{\text{“New” LTCI contribution rate(0.9082\%)}^*}{\text{NHI contribution rate(7.09\%)}}$$

* “New” LTCI contribution rate = LTCI contribution rate(12.81%) × NHI contribution rate(7.09%)
